

Udo Niehage
Dr.-Ing., Dipl. Kfm.

Group President
Power Transmission and Distribution Group

born on November 11, 1954
in Dortmund, Germany

---

Education

Secondary school (baccalaureate)
Studied electrical engineering (power systems) at Technical University TU Munich, Germany and at Technical University, RWTH Aachen, Germany
Dipl.-Ing., Dr.-Ing.
Parallel study of general business administration
Dipl. Kfm.

Professional history

- |             |                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1980        | Technical University RWTH Aachen, Institute for Power Systems and Energy Management. Research Assistant and Academic Counselor                                                              |
| 1988        | Joined Siemens AG, Nuremberg, Germany. Energy and Automation Group. Network Control Systems Division. Sales Engineer, Project Manager, Sales Head                                           |
| 1992        | ABB AG. ABB Schaltanlagen GmbH, Mannheim, Germany. Head of Engineering and Technology Department                                                                                            |
| 1994        | ABB Calor Emag Schaltanlagen AG, Mannheim. Head of High and Medium Voltage Substation Division                                                                                              |
| 1997        | ABB Netzleittechnik GmbH, Ladenburg, Germany (1998: Reorganized as ABB Energy Information Systems GmbH). Head of Executive Management                                                       |
| 1998        | Worldwide Head of Business Unit ABB Power Systems Control, Zurich, Switzerland and Mannheim.Additionally: ABB Utility Automation GmbH, Mannheim. Head of Power Systems Control Division |
| 1999        | BEWAG AG, Berlin, Germany. Head of Sales and Energy Trading                                                                                                                                 |
| 2000        | Siemens AG, Erlangen, Germany. Power Transmission and Distribution Group. Head of Medium Voltage Switchgear Subdivision                                                                     |
| 2001        | Power Transmission and Distribution Group. Head of Medium Voltage Division                                                                                                                  |
| Oct. 2003   | Group President of Siemens' Power Transmission and Distribution Group                                                                                                                       |
| As of 01/08 | Sector Energy, Division CEO Power Transmission                                                                                                                                              |